

ALLIES' ATTACKS KEEP GERMANS FROM SENDING NEW TROOPS TO POLAND

ENCH TAKE GERMAN POSITIONS AT LA BASSE AND CLAIM GAINS IN FLAN-DERS.

REJOICING PREMATURE?

Berlin Fails to Receive Details of Supposed Decisive Victory Over Russians on Eastern Frontier.

It is indicated by the German war office statement today that the offensive in the west now rests with the Allies. The Berlin communication links of a series of hostile attacks which it is said, were repulsed. The French statement, however, asserts that further important advantages have been won by the allies who apparently are now making an effort to push back the German line at a sharp angle north of Paris, where it swings eastward. Albert, it is said, has been repulsed, the positions taken by us Dec. 17 have been retained.

"To the north of Marcourt, we were obliged to abandon a trench occupied the night before and set on fire by the enemy by means of hand grenades. Repulse German Attacks." Several German trenches have been occupied in the region of Mameots and in the vicinity of Lyons, and three violent counter attacks on the part of the Germans have been repulsed. "In the Argonne and in the forest of Le Grange we blew up a German undermining trench. Near St. Hubert the enemy by a very spirited attack succeeded in making slight progress. It has been confirmed that on the heights of the Meuse our fire directed by aviators demolished two heavy batteries of the enemy and damaged a third battery."

Report From Berlin.

Berlin, Dec. 10.—An official statement was given out in Berlin this afternoon as follows:

"Yesterday there took place a series of hostile attacks on the western arena of the war. The fighting continues at Nieuport, Bixchoote and La Basse. We repulsed attacks of the enemy to the south of Lille, the east of Albert and west of Noyon. On the east Prussian frontier a Russian cavalry attack to the west of Pillkallen was repulsed.

"The German war office announces that all our overwhelming victory in Poland still fails to bring a response from Petrograd. Berlin adds that the absence of details, and is said to be experiencing a shadow of disappointment," although still celebrating the reported victory.

Petrograd dispatches say that the new Austrian expedition across the Carpathian mountains into Galicia has been checked, and that the Russians force the German frontier, Cracow region is described as the real pivot of the operations now developing which would indicate that the Russians were content for the present to remain in the defensive in north and central Poland, while planning an attempt to invade Germany from the south.

London newspapers have revived the report that the allies have captured Roulens in one of the most furiously contested regions of Flanders. Like the rumored capture of West End, however, this report lacks official confirmation. About all that is known definitely of the situation in the west, is that the allies are exerting steady pressure at the German line and while advancing in some localities have suffered reverses elsewhere.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Berlin, Dec. 18, via The Hague and London, Dec. 19.—Delayed in translation, Berlin was still in festive array today celebrating the recent victory in Poland, but the people experienced a shade of disappointment from the brevity of the official war bulletin, which failed to supply any further details of the Polish engagement. The newspaper point out this afternoon that the present development in the eastern arena of the war still requires several days to reach a definite result, and no results can be approximately set forth.

In the meantime various rumors are in circulation concerning the very large number of prisoners taken by the Germans.

Rudolph Von Valentini, chief of Emperor William's civil cabinet, answering telegrams from the East Prussian syndic of the empire, wrote as follows:

"His Majesty confidently trusts that the army which will conquer with God's help, will lead to a happier future through the present trying days to a happier future."

"By imperial order. Signed,

V. ALANTINI."

BLOW UP SUPPLY TRAIN.

Amsterdam, via London, Dec. 19.—According to the Budapest newspaper, Pest Napolo, an armored train en route from Lemberg to the Carpathians with ammunition and food, has been blown up.

The route of the dispatch "Lemberg to the Carpathians" makes it appear that the supply train was blown up by the Russians, who have held Lemberg for some time. The report, if true, would indicate that a line of Russian communication with their forces operating in the Carpathians have been successfully attacked.

SOLDIERS GO INSANE IN YPRES TRENCHES

Nervous Prostration Claims Large Numbers of Men Who Break Down Under Terrific Strain.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Southampton, England, Dec. 19.—Insanity and nervous prostration are claiming large numbers of the Allies who have lain for weeks under German fire in the trenches about Ypres. This was the report of detectives employed by the state vice commission after an investigation here as well as by the reporters of the commission. The commission report filed at Madison, the city officials made an investigation following a published report that Manitowoc was credited with having twelve immortal respects. The report makes no such statement, but refers to twelve saloons, rooming houses, hotels and other places that might be open to investigation, and local authorities have started looking into these cases.

The British Vorwärts rebukes its colleagues for what it calls their "exaggerated deduction" from the information available. It is evident that Grand Duke Nicholas has drawn a portion of the Russian front from Lestzlow line to entrenchments nearer Warsaw. There has been no admission from Petrograd, however, of any serious reverses in the field of operations along the Vistula river, such as must necessarily have preceded the German victory. It is probable that the Prussian allies have scored successes in some localities, although there is no information available as to their location.

Germans Evacuate Lodz.

The reverses which Petrograd says that the Germans have suffered in the region of Mlawa, near the East Prussian frontier, is believed in London to have interfered with operations of the Germans along the Vistula. It is asserted officially at Petrograd that the Germans have evacuated Lodz, finding it of no great strategic value to them than it was to the Russians. Last night's official communication from the Russian war office stated definitely that all Austro-German attacks along the left bank of the Vistula which have been in progress for several days, have been repulsed.

During the weeks ending Dec. 7, 92 British officers were killed in France, 132 wounded and 20 reported missing. The losses were rather evenly scattered through virtually all organizations at the front. No general statement has more than three officers killed.

The Indian contingent evidently has been active, for the losses here were heavy. Twenty-nine officers attached to the Indian forces were killed, 49 wounded and 20 reported missing.

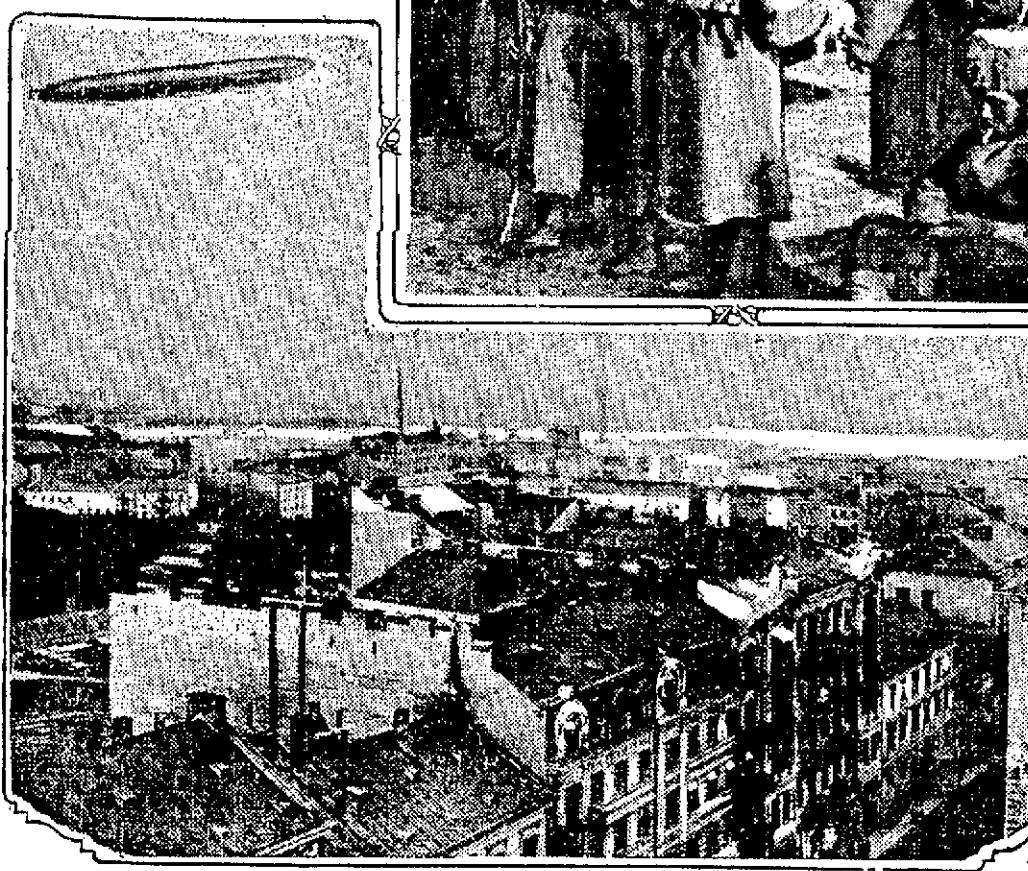

The total casualties of officers since the war began are as follows: Killed, 1,058; wounded, 2,071; missing, 62.

DISABLED STEAMER ON WAY TO HARBOR

American-Hawaiian Boat Able to Continue Journey With Hole in Her Bow—Other Marine News.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

San Diego, Calif., Dec. 19.—Stout bulkheads and a comparatively quiet sea promised early today to prove the salvation of the American-Hawaiian steamer Isthmian, which, with a hole in her bow, was driven far out of the water, continued to paddle slowly toward this harbor and safety. If she remained afloat and maintains her gait of 7½ knots, it was estimated she would arrive off here about midnight tonight.

Storm Cause Delay.

Philadelphia, Dec. 19.—The Dutch steamer Helena, bound days overdue from Rotterdam, passed the Cape Horn today and is expected to arrive here this afternoon. The Helena left Rotterdam, November 19 and some anxiety was felt as to her safety.

The captain made no report in passing the maritime signal station at the cape, and it is believed the ship was delayed for a time because the steamer was also anxious, as was the case, to avoid the shipping.

Ships Collide in Harbor.

New York, Dec. 19.—The steamer Bratsberg, enroute bound for Rio Janeiro, collided with the Greek steamer Themistocles, lying at anchor off quarantine today. Apparently the Themistocles was undamaged. The midship bridge of the Bratsberg was smashed, but after she had stopped and investigated the steamer proceeded on her way.

SEVENTY GUESTS AT "HARD TIMES" DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Jeffris Entertained In Novel Manner Friday Evening at Six-thirty Dinner.

Gowned in dresses of the vintage of past decades, with tiny waists or flaring skirts, jerseys of variegated hue, fringe bedecked waists, long trains of expensive silks, bonnets of strange, weird shapes, short sleeves, tight bodices or balloon sleeves, with their escorts dressed in costumes that by some marvel had escaped the big dress suits, where vests and troopers failed to meet. Staid Prince Alberts, with red ties, and colored shirts, tan shoes and striped trousers, cutaways, with spats and white footgear, ragged flannel shirts, with medals and badges of long forgotten conventions. Ushers dusters and shiny coats, seven-guests enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Jeffris, at their residence on St. Lawrence, availed themselves of the six-thirty "Hard Times" dinner.

It was an evening of surprises, and as each now arrived entered the parlors they were greeted with laughter and applause. The supper was served in the long banquet hall, the ladies being seated on one side of the long table, the men on the other. The waitresses, gowned to suit the occasion, in gingham, with many colored ribbons, passed huge platters of turkey with all the appendages, while hungry guests did justice to the repast. The table was tastefully decorated with tiny Christmas trees, all ablaze with candles, while the walls were decorated with appropriate signs of warning as to the behavior of guests. Music and bridge then followed, Miss Josephine Carlo winning the first ladies' honors, Mrs. Victor P. Richardson carrying off the consolation honors. David W. Holmes had the high gentleman's prize and M. O. Mount the silver. Mrs. Mrs. Stanley Smith was awarded the lucky number prize. The prizes were in accordance with the rest of the evening, most unique and acceptable.

CHRISTMAS RUSH ON AT FEDERAL OFFICE

Extra Help at Disposal of Postmaster Cunningham Makes Service Highly Efficient.

The annual Christmas rush is just beginning to make itself conspicuous at the Janesville postoffice. A constant influx of packages, parcels and letters move to the local office through the last week.

Packages destined for the longer distance to the east and west and south are more in evidence than those for adjacent territory. Postmaster Cunningham stated this morning that the real heavy work for his helpers would open on Monday. To prepare for eventualities three extra teams will be placed in the service the first of next week. Each will be in charge of two extra mailmen. One team wagon went to town. In the mail department Superintendent Edward Madden has been given an extra helper and an extra window has also been opened.

Mail received here is being handled as quickly as it reaches the office. Everything that arrives is disposed of as soon as possible.

Use strong wrapping paper and strong cord. Return address in upper left hand corner.

Send glass and fragile goods in wooden boxes, and pack carefully. Write destination and sending address plainly and in ink.

BE SURE TO Mail your packages early. See that they reach the postoffice in proper condition.

Mr. Business Man who works late, and especially men connected with cigar factories, if you have a telephone call late at night, and the other end of the telephone rings, you can be sure the wrong numbers beware. This telephonist may be a sneak thief that is seeking to find if the coast is clear to loot your place.

In Superior, Noenah and several other northern cities a gang of clever thieves have used this method of gaining information if the store they wished to rob, was unguarded to allow them to make their raid. The police are Jimmies experts and in Superior a number of a cigar factory lost a valuable lot of high-priced cigars as well as thirty boxes of government revenue stamps. In another robbery the telephone thieves hauled their stuff away in an automobile.

Catarrh is as much a blood disease as scrofula or rheumatism. It may be relieved, but it cannot be removed by simply local treatment. It breaks down the general health, weakens the lung tissues, and leads to consumption.

SCRUBS FORCE HIGH FIVE TO THE LIMIT; FINAL COUNT 23-14

High School Regulars Are Victorious,
But Are Forced to Play Defensive Ball Throughout Game.

By a score of 23 to 14, the high school first basketball quintet won a hard-earned victory, aided by considerable luck, at the high school gymnasium yesterday afternoon, when they downed the second team in a royal battle. Barring the score, or the noticeable luck in throwing baskets, the second team outplayed and outgained their opponents in almost every state of the game. Little teamwork was displayed by the regulars. They simply could not get the ball past the middle of the floor. For the first five Stewart was the star, while Brown, Weirick and Badger displayed the most basketball ability for the ineligibles. Richards, although he failed to score, showed up in rare form. His floor work was classy and his speed unequalled. That of Captain Stickney, who played exceptionally fast, his wind getting the best of him before the contest ended, causing him to slow down. Rau, at guard, was much better than at center. Brown tearing away from him in the second had and breaking up first team passes. Except for Rau's two long lucky shots Brown would have bested him on field goals. Kalvelage, who took Rau's place at guard in the last half, although inexperienced, showed signs of a rapid improvement. Jones worked well at center in the first half for the regulars, and retired at the end of the half.

The first contest of yesterday shows up the weak spots in the first team. Curtis will get busy during the Christmas vacation and try to accustom his men to the positions where they are best fitted. Basket-shooting is not the weakest point. They need not fear the weak work and rapid floor work. The line-up and score of yesterday's conflict is as follows:

Regulars. Richards, If; Captain Stickney, If; Jones and Rau, c; Stewart, Ig; Rau and Kalvelage, rg; Scrubs—Weirick, If; Cushing, rf; Brown, c; Lee and Badger, Ig; Cronin, rg.

Paskets: Stewart, 4; Rau, 3; Stickney, 3; Kalvelage, Weirick, 3; Brown, 2; Badger. Foul goals: Stewart, 1; Cushing, 1.

Referee: Guy W. Curtis.

Timekeeper and scores: A. C. Lamb.

WILL COLLINS MAKE GOOD WITH CHICAGO?

Connie Mack's Machine Crumbles
Beneath Father Times' Efforts and Misses Cope.

(By Hal. Sheridan.)

New York, Dec. 19.—They all wear out, if used continuously. This is true of any kind, shape or form of machine, be it army, automobile, boat, football or baseball machine.—Old Doc Time gets 'em all. Whether their parts simply wear away or whether they pull apart and fail to work together the Old Man gets them just the same. And so it was that Connie Mack bowed before the inevitable and cast out the keystone of his pyramid $100,000 infield. It is reported that one and possibly two other members of that once invincible machine are to be replaced. If this action hasn't already been taken by the time this issue goes to the printers and from them to the pressmen.

Mack claims to have good reasons for disjoining his infiel. He refuses to tell what they are, but Old Lady Rumor persists in whispering that friction between Ira Thomas and Eddie Collins was the chief cause. Collins, according to rumor, jarred the first bean from the pot when he wrote a story full of great detail about the statistics studied and learned by the various teams. Then when Thomas protested that old bugaboos of managers—rival cliques—made its appearance. Many folks believe it was this lack of cohesion due to team cliques, that put sand in the wheels of the once great Athletic machine and spilled all the beans.

If these stories be true, Connie Mack cleared $50,000 on the deal. Last night he sold to the White Sox for the sum of $100,000. The details are reported. Collins was no good to Mack despite the fact that he is worth a million dollars to any other manager in the league. It is admitted by all baseball managers that a one-armed, wooden-legged shortstop is of more value to a team than a "beefier" and a leader of an anti-management or an anti-anything clique.

It may have been that Collins was not at fault. It really is mighty hard to believe he was and some stories are that other heads organized the clique against Collins and two others. Even so Mack had to get rid of one of the parties to the rivalry. He didn't want to sell his whole team when he could sell Collins and get just as much—if not more.

Statistics of the health department show that there are more typhoid fever cases in Janesville from December to May than from May to December. Most of these cases are laid to water—some to milk. Just as you are careful about the water you drink, so you must know the purity of the milk and cream that are used in your home. There is one policy of milk insurance in Janesville and that is a daily use of J. P. M. C. products.

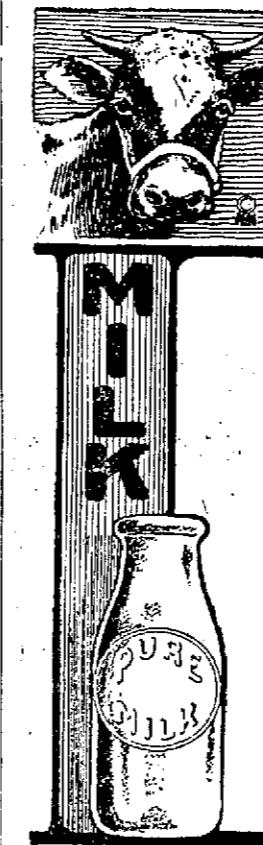

Whether it be a quart or a pint of milk, a pint or half pint or even a gill of cream—plain or whipping—the J. P. M. C. product delivered at your home in time for breakfast is perfectly pure and pasteurized—and costs you no more than a non-pasteurized milk product.

You owe your family this pure milk insurance.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT.

"To be governed by your admirations rather than by your disgusts; to covet nothing that is your neighbor's except his kindness of heart and gentleness of manners; to think seldom of your enemies, often of your friends; and every day of Christ; and to spend as much time as you can, with body and with spirit, in God's out-of-doors—these are the little guide-posts to the footpath of peace. Love is not getting, but giving; not a wild dream of pleasure, and a madness of desire—no, love is not that; it is goodness and honor, and peace and pure living—yes, love is that; and it is the best thing in the world, and the thing that lives longest. To be glad of life because it gives you the chance to love and to work and to play and to look up at the stars; to be satisfied with your possessions but not content with yourself until you have made the best of them; to despise nothing in the world except falsehood and meanness, and to fear nothing except cowardice."

The captain of the forces for right, plays no favorites, and knows no creed. He takes command of every soul that comes into being, in every land everywhere and simply asks the consent of the will to recognize and obey.

The little creed outlined by Mr. Van Dyke, is a broad and comprehensive creed, so practical and full of common sense that any mind may grasp it. There is nothing supernatural about it, just a simple declaration of conduct and aspirations which make for peace, and which insure a heaven here and now, and a safe passage to the great beyond.

"The peace which passeth understanding" is always an individual peace. It is within the grasp of every created soul and in the good time coming, when it will be more generally possessed and enjoyed, there will be no more war, and then will be the millennium.

The Christmas Spirit should last the year round. The Daily Gazette will never, this spring, let your friend call twice a year. Bright and new each day. Delivered in city, $6.00; by mail in Rock County and vicinity, $3.00; outside of Rock County and vicinity, $4.00 a year.

All over the world today the prayer of the home is a prayer for peace. In the homes of the old world, shattered by war, this prayer is an agonizing petition, and while it may not find audible expression in the trenches and at the front, it fills the heart of the brave men with a longing desire more eloquent than words.

But peace is not in sight, and even the short Christmas armistice, suggested ten days ago, has been abandoned, and the world's great holiday will be desecrated as never before.

A recent writer, in trying to find a bright spot in the dark situation, said, the other day, after casting about in vain for some reason why Deity in some miraculous way did not interfere:

"It is wisdom to inquire if war is the greatest calamity that could befall our times. I do not believe it is. But even if it is, history shows that God has sometimes used a great calamity to ward off a greater one and surely he can do this again, and I believe he is now doing it. Germany will be saved from the subtle undermining doctrines of Schopenhauer and Nietzsche, and England from her decay of faith and neglect of the church, and France from her gayety and frivolity, and Russia is already revealing a better side and within her border the evangelical preacher will have a better inning when this war is over."

"Who knows but all the ten nations now in this war will touch reality as never before?"

The preacher who wrote this paragraph, may have struck a big thought. It is in line with the well established fact that war has always been the world's great civilization, and with Russia, one hundred and thirty million strong, transformed in a day from a drinking to a temperance nation, it looks as though the work of reform was already well in hand. The drink bill of Russia last year is placed at one billion dollars. Today it is nil. A war measured of course, but its good effects will be permanent.

The ten nations involved in war represent half the population of the world, and the sympathies of the other half are so thoroughly aroused that the final outcome means a world revolution in which the people of all lands will "touch reality" as never before. America, the one great nation, at peace with all mankind, will have much to do with the new map of the old world, which is bound to follow as the result of revolution, for while only a spectator, the nation presents to the world an object lesson, which the oppressed people of other lands are studying today with absorbing interest.

The destruction of life and property, now going on with reckless abandon, forecasts the crumbling of kingdoms and dynasties, and out of the wreckage the people will lay foundations for governments in which they will be represented, not as serfs, but as free moral agents, and in God's good time the freedom which blesses America will bless the world.

This may seem like a far-fetched prediction, but no more so than a prophecy of the war now raging, had it been made twelve months ago. Peace, when it finally comes, must be established on a basis of justice to all mankind, if it is to be abiding. The people will be satisfied with nothing less.

But the writer of the paragraph, which introduces this story, had in mind the peace of the individual, rather than the peace of nations, and while the latter, just now, is of vital importance, the former is always significant, because every life is a battlefield where the conflict rages with daily monotony.

It is an old saying that two people are always necessary to a fight. The scraps which start in the home, and in the divorce court, usually divide responsibility between the combatants.

The surprising thing about domestic life is not the quarrels, which result in separation, and which—like crime—are always advertised. The astonishing thing is found in the fact that the average home weathers the storms of acquaintance and adjustment without a ripple on the surface.

The thing called love, back in the days of courtship, is seldom worthy of the name because it is so largely sentiment, influenced more or less by passion. The test of love, and the only test, is sacrifice. That is why the mother's love is likened to the love of God, and that is why old people, who trudge along the pathway, contently together, in close companionship for a lifetime, grow to look and act alike. Their lives have been blended, as only time can blend, through mutual giving and taking, until they dwell in an atmosphere of peace.

But the battle of the individual is neither national nor domestic. It is a hand to hand encounter between the forces of good and evil which constantly strive for the mastery. It is not a noisy battle, and lacks the stimulus of martial music, but it is the most important conflict which ever engages individual attention.

The "down and out" class are victims of defeat, in this hand to hand engagement, and their ranks are constantly recruiting, from stragglers, who drop out by the way. The battle of life is a fierce battle, which tests the moral fibre of every contestant. And yet an easy battle to win if the still small voice—which is the God within us—is recognized, and the one command, "do right," is obeyed.

The captain of the forces for right, plays no favorites, and knows no creed. He takes command of every soul that comes into being, in every land everywhere and simply asks the consent of the will to recognize and obey.

The little creed outlined by Mr. Van Dyke, is a broad and comprehensive creed, so practical and full of common sense that any mind may grasp it. There is nothing supernatural about it, just a simple declaration of conduct and aspirations which make for peace, and which insure a heaven here and now, and a safe passage to the great beyond.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT.

The Old-Fashioned Presents. How dear to my heart are the gifts of my childhood, When fond recollections present them to view;

The old rubber doll with the whistle in its stomach,

Which was such a miracle when it was new.

The handpainted sled and the 20-cent jackknife.

The animal blocks and the little tin train,

Brought joy to our heart that amounted to rapture,

A joy that we never will pass through again.

The fine jumping jack and the model pile driver.

The hose cart and engine that pulled with a string;

The top hook and ladder, the real magic lantern,

The drum which my father would burst the first thing.

Of course, nowadays they would seem sort of foolish—

The things that old Santa brought when we were small;

But when you consider the joy that they gave us,

The old-fashioned presents were best after all.

A Criticism.

An editor who was asked by his son to help him with some of the problems assigned as night work, says he can see how a boy is going to learn anything when his teacher sends him home with problems like the following: "It takes a 4-months woodpecker, with a rubber bill, nine months and 13 days to peck a hole through a cypress log that is large enough to make 117 sledgehammers, and it takes 165 sledgehammers to make a bundle worth 93 cents, how long will it take a cross-eyed grasshopper with a cork leg to kick all the seeds out a dill pickle?"

Free to the public, time tables from all transportation lines in United States. Also descriptive literature of interest to travelers. The Gazette Travel Bureau will also furnish information on rates, etc., on the various transportation lines going to any particular point.

OUR National Opportunity
LESSONS for AMERICA from the WAR*THINK PROSPERITY AND BUY AS USUAL.

(By George H. Benedict.)

Prosperity is largely a matter of wide-spread sentiment of feeling.

If we think times are going to be bad, and then contract our expenditures, going without merchandise we need, we will have our way about it; times will be close.

At home, we are told that the pig iron industry is brightening. New orders booked in the Buffalo district will keep all the blast furnaces now in New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan and New England foundries have contributed to this rush of orders. One ton of iron costs $100.

At South Chicago, over 2,000 men have been put back at work at Bessemer converting mill No. 1. More will be added from time to time.

When the Chicago stock exchange reopened a few days ago, many securities sold at higher prices than on July 30. This indicated confidence in the tendency to bid up, to stagnate. Increasing optimism prompts us to buy what we need as we want it, and that means employment for increasing numbers of workers.

Europe is still helping us out with orders. The Peerless Motor Car Company, which has not been mentioned in these articles before, has an English order for trucks that will run up to $20,000,000 if the war last two years.

Clearest of all fountain pens—free from faults and troubles. Put up in handsome holiday boxes for gift purposes in many different styles and sizes.

"Potato Rings", Prized.

What is commonly called a "potato ring" was recently sold in London for $930. These exquisite examples of the work of the eighteenth century Irish silversmiths are not "potato rings" at all. The Irish gentry of the period were addicted to punch after their dinners. A bowl of hot punch quickly leaves a permanent mark on a mahogany table, so these rings were designed as repositories for the punch bowl.

CHRISTMAS CAMPAIGN DRAWING TO A CLOSE

LATE CONTRIBUTORS TO FUND ARE REQUESTED TO SEND IN MONEY AT ONCE.

HAPPY TIME FOR ALL

Churches, Lodges, Societies and Citizens generally, display True
Holiday Spirit.

Contributions to the Christmas fund of the Associated Charities have been coming in rapidly during the last few days and true Christmas spirit has been displayed by churches, lodges, societies and citizens.

It will be a happy holiday for every family in Janesville and those who have given will feel more amply rewarded than those who received.

Contributions will be received at the Gazette office until next Thursday, but all who are contributing gifts are urged to hand them in at the earliest possible convenience in order to have them ready for the Associated Charities who will have a family campaign and there may be others who would appreciate a call from Santa Claus' agents. Any citizen who knows of such persons is requested to inform Father Willmann and the necessary provision will be made to care for the case.

that the work of distribution may be done promptly. It is probable that the agents of Santa Claus will make their big roundabout afternoon as Thursday will be occupied with the Christmas tree festivities. Early next week the provisions must be purchased and the baskets made up. It will be a busy time for the workers and a helping hand will be appreciated.
Several automobiles will be needed to distribute the baskets.
Some good citizens will surely be ready to contribute this service.

PETEY DINK—EASY TO SEE THAT PETEY'S A SPUG.

Side Lights On The Circus Business

By
D. W. WATT

When a boy of 16 I went to work in a grocery store in Monroe, Wis., owned by two brothers by the name of Hodges. At that time there were five Hodges in Monroe, four of which bore the name of William. Everybody knew them by "Big Bill," "Old Bill" and "Young Bill." Shortly after I came to Janesville, "Old Bill," for whom I worked, left Green county for southwestern Kansas and for many years I lost all track of my old employer. "Big Bill," as he was known, was a great smoker and always used a clay pipe and the darker the color and the stronger the pipe, the better he liked it. It was some twenty or three years later when I was employed there that we showed in the town where "Big Bill" had lived for many years, and had married a woman named Mary Young, who served something like 25 years in the Minnesota state prison, and he for many years has been living quietly at Leavenworth, Mo.

Word came a few days ago that Frank James, the noted bandit of 40 years ago, was lying on his death bed at the old homeplace in Missouri about nine miles southwest of Lexington Springs, and that upon the tomb that the famous boys were raised prior to the civil war. Frank James is now 73 years old, and after his death there will be only one of that famous band left, which is Cole Younger, who served something like 25 years in the Minnesota state prison, and he for many years has been living quietly at Leavenworth, Mo.

The party who came to see him did not forget. They had heard that he was simpleminded and that he was shown in the way that they showed in the way that he had lived for many years, and had married a woman named Mary Young, who served something like 25 years in the Minnesota state prison, and he for many years has been living quietly there in a modest way to try and live down and forget the past, and about nine o'clock in the evening, a young man came to the ticket wagon and said that Mr. Young was down at the Frank James home and that he wanted someone to go and get him.

I quickly said, "Not for me, I have known him longer than you have, and I never heard him called Mr. Hodges before. Will you please call him to the window?" Mr. Hodges came, but he did not recognize me, and said to him, "I have been trying to get some change on New York exchange from your boy here, but he refused to give it to me. I would like to speak with the president of the bank. For those in need like you to help him understand when you have business to attend to."

Mr. Hodges was very nice to me and while he said he was president of the bank, he never had taken any action toward me in the world, and I do not know what he thought, but he thought that would be bad, and then asked him if that was the same pipe he had brought west from Monroe with him, and he smiled and took it out of me and said,

"What do you know about Monroe?"

I told him that I had lived there when little boy, and recited all of the Hodges. He then asked me what I was doing in Monroe, and I told him that my first wife was in a grocery store, and he said, "Hodges, the teller gave him orders to accommodate me with all the change and New York exchange that he possibly could, and if there was any expense, to charge it to him."

At the Hodges homeplace at 5:30 o'clock that night, all the family and a few invited guests, of whom I was one, sat around with the Hodges, which roared time for me to open the Hodges wagon for the evening show. We all enjoyed staying with me that night, and remained all evening and ready to pull out for the next town.

"Big Bill" Hodges stood about six foot four, and a brother hearted man I never knew. This was only another instance of meeting old friends unexpectedly.

W. Laydon, assistant superintendent of the Northwestern roads with headquarters at Anchorage, Alaska, Janesville on Wednesday to attend the funeral of Wm. Cundiff, and chance I happened to meet him, and although I had forgotten him, he remembered me, for he had charge of the train that carried the Burr Robins show over the northern part of the state in 1881.

Mr. Laydon related an instance that happened to the show on the road running to Virginia. This run was made on Sunday, for the reason that there was a heavy grade to make where only one car at a time could be taken up. Mr. Laydon and I worked together there most of the time Sunday, and as it was the first circus train he had ever had charge of, he remembered it well.

"We had a long ride, and received, however, on Monday night backstage Jerry stuck stayed with us on the train, and the last when he left, he and his son were his guests at a sufficient lunch. Virginia was Mr. Rank's home and when we sat around the lunch table Mr. Rank told the waiter that that had been the hardest night he had ever put in to show business."

"Do you know," he said, "it was the globe which I took the last night of the lot?"

Mr. Rank thought this was great joke, for the waiter seemed to take it all in and never realized that the old ex-conference was joking. And it was instance like those that made an impression on Mr. Laydon that

MUSIC LOVERS ENJOY OPERA AT THE MYERS

Bizet's Masterpiece "Carmen" Holds Audience With Its Dramatic Story, Melodic Music and Artistic Settings.

These Janesville music lovers who missed hearing Carmen missed hearing what will remain as a memorable event in the minds of those present that evening.

Chevalier Salvatore Giordano loomed large as the star of the evening.

Giordano is a striking figure on the stage, and is possessed of a gloriously expressive tenor of widest range, evenness and purity and displayed considerable dramatic ability.

In the act of Don Jose he scored complete success and the beautiful tones in the love duet can never be forgotten.

Miss Yvonne Darlo, who sang Carmen last night, enjoys the double joy of being the youngest and most beautiful Carmen that ever essayed the part. One is electrified by her performance, by its southern sensuousness and wonderful local art.

Sig. Giorgio Galata, as the Toreador, formerly with the Milan Opera Company, is a splendid figure of a man who is a wonderfully rich baritone which was well heard in his rendition of the famous Toreador song. In the second act Galata is not only an exceptional singer but is a splendid actor.

Miss Marguerite Hobert, who appeared as Micaela, the village maiden, possesses every attribute of the part, youth, beauty, sweetness of character and charm of voice. Her crystal-clear voice takes the most difficult flights with the ease of a bird, and in the third act it rises to a height of dramatic intensity that won her the loudest applause.

The Misses Ethel Peters, Jessie Bruce and Gustav Mehl, Chas. Trill, Richard Parks and Francis Parks, all artists, were in the supporting cast.

They are possessed of excellent voices and their singing and solo work is of the highest order.

It has been long while since Janesville has had the opportunity to enjoy such a musical treat. It is safe to say that if this company could be induced to play a return engagement presenting the other opera in English, "Faust" it would pack the theatre to the doors.

During the evening some eighty odd students at the State Institute for the Blind were present, the guests of the management.

AT MYERS THEATRE.

Meeting the audience half way and lifting it up to the level of their class, the idea is the accomplishment of Carmen and Carmen, who will appear at Myers Theatre tonight and tomorrow matinee and evening. Unlike the majority of the other unsympathetic masters, this couple, in their violin and harp act, stoop to please up the unappreciative and sedentary indeed, do they fall to carry them to the end. They do not descend to the vulgar commonplace to do it, they win appreciation by sympathetic conception, by excellent repose and by noble ideas. There is a glowing temperament in the work and assurance that the players really live the compositions they interpret.

Ernest Rickett will appear as Richard Carle in vaudeville.

Ballinger and Reynolds will introduce a novelty feature entitled "Fun on the Wye."

The regular Universal Motion Picture program will also be shown.

Sell your house or any other piece of real estate you may have through the want ad column—the cost is but a trifle.

NEGRO IS WANTED FOR MURDER IN MILWAUKEE.

Janesville police have received a phone message from the Milwaukee authority to watch for a negro named William Moore, who murdered a white woman named Miller in Milwaukee Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Miller was the wife of a colored man and Moore was boarding at their home. Moore is thirty years of age, five foot five inches in height, 100 pounds in weight. He wore a shabby mustache.

THOUSAND DOLLAR REWARD FOR RECOVERY OF JEWELRY.

Would it be a crime to steal a dog collar made of small pearls, platinum wire, with five hundred diamonds, six of which are large ones, that was lost by a cute little puddle dog running loose? Chief Champion ventured to remark that the owner should be held responsible for losing such a freakish notion.

A dog collar of this description and about one hundred thousand dollars worth of jewelry was listed in the paper recently by the police here from the Pinkerton detective agency which were stolen from Stockbridge, Mass., on August 17th. One thousand dollars is offered for the recovery of the property.

WHAT DO THESE PICTURES ILLUSTRATE?

Can You Arrange Them Into a Complete Picture?

The Gazette offers one reserve seat to each of the twenty readers who are first to assemble correctly and send in the kaleidoscopic into a complete picture. Place the right pieces in the right position—and present you have satisfied your curiosity, you have spent a most interesting interval in satisfying it, you have exercised your mental power, and have cultivated the very important power of observation. Furthermore, you will have derived the satisfaction of "winning out" of achievement, and—over and above all—if you will not later than Wednesday noon, December 23rd, send to the "Puzzle Picture Editor" of The Gazette the pieces properly pasted together, with your name and address plainly written on the sheet showing your solution, you will be rewarded with a globe circling journey with Lyman H. Howe at Myers Theater. You may have this entertainment free by merely exercising your ingenuity in placing these pieces in the right way. The range of objects to be presented is as wide as human nature itself. The mental outlook of every spectator is developed and broadened to a remarkable degree. For this reason it has been termed—and very aptly so—a "traveling university." Remember that the free seats are to the first twenty correct solutions, and get yours in quickly.
